

Primary Sources

Festa, Gabriele R, and Ermalinda DiPaula. "The Life of Italian American Immigrant Ermalinda DiPaula." 5 Oct. 2019.

This interview allowed me to listen firsthand what it was like to emigrate from Italy to America. My grandmother helped me get a sense of how Italian American women were treated in Connecticut and their amazing journey to lay a foundation for their future children and grandchildren.

Italian Women in Industry : a Study of Conditions in New York City / by Louise C. Odencrantz., quod.lib.umich.edu/m/moa/0953120.0001.001/67?page=root;size.

This document allowed me to view what exactly Italian immigrant women demanded from the corporations they were looking for.

Eugenics Archive: Italian Immigrant Women and Child - Photograph, www.eugenicsarchive.org/eugenics/image_header.pl?id=1513.

This document gave me pictures that were taken at the time of the movement. These included women and their children in 1905.

"LaborArts." Labor Arts, www.laborarts.org/exhibits/thetrianglefire/2-the-clothing-industry.cfm.

This document contained pictures that were taken at the time of the movement. They include a poster located at factories where women worked and pictures of women working in the factories.

Secondary Sources

Digital History, www.digitalhistory.uh.edu/voices/italian_immigration.cfm.

Admin, Written by. "Italian American Women." Life in Italy, 26 Oct. 2019, www.lifeinitaly.com/heritage/italian-american-women.

This website gave me background information on the immigration on Italian immigrants.

"ExperienceFirst " 8 Famous Ellis Island Immigrants." ExperienceFirst, www.exp1.com/blog/8-famous-ellis-island-immigrants/.

This website helped me find notable activists to write about in my website.

"Immigrants' Rights." Immigrants' Rights | Unions Making History in America, www.lib.umd.edu/unions/social/immigrants-rights.

This website gave me information about the labor groups that Italian American women were forming. It also gave me pictures to use.

"Italian - L'Isola Dell Lagrime - Immigration...- Classroom Presentation: Teacher Resources - Library of Congress." Italian - L'Isola Dell Lagrime - Immigration...- Classroom Presentation | Teacher Resources - Library of Congress, www.loc.gov/teachers/classroommaterials/presentationsandactivities/presentations/immigration/italian4.html.

This website helped me analyze the movement in a chronological way, allowing me to visualize it more and give me background information.

"Italian American Economic Rise: The Peopling of New York City." Italian American Economic Rise | The Peopling of New York City, macaulay.cuny.edu/seminars/reichl10/content/italian-american-economic-rise/index.html.

This website gave me background information on the first wave of immigrants from Italy, including the men. It also provided me with pictures of immigrant men and women with their suitcases at hand.

Pernicone., Nunzio, et al. "Italian Americans Who Fought for Justice." Zinn Education Project, www.zinnedproject.org/materials/italians-who-fought-for-justice/.

This website gave me information on notable activists, including Angela Bambace.

Riccio, Anthony V. Farms, Factories, and Families: Italian American Women of Connecticut. Excelsior Editions, State University of New York Press, 2014.

This book greatly helped me by giving me background information on the topic and showing me what it was like to be a woman during this movement.

Russo, Basil M., and Isda. "What Makes Us Italian American?" Italian Sons and Daughters of America, 29 June 2019, www.orderisda.org/culture/la-nostra-voce/what-makes-us-italian-american/.

This website helped me by giving me information on the pride of being an Italian American and the values they hold today because of immigrant women from Italy.

Stapinski, Helene. "When America Barred Italians." The New York Times, The New York Times, 2 June 2017, www.nytimes.com/2017/06/02/opinion/illegal-immigration-italian-americans.html?auth=login-email&login=email.

This website gave me insightful information on the prejudice Italian immigrant women faced when they arrived in America.

"The Story of Connecticut's Italians." We the Italians, 10 June 2013, wetheitalians.com/default/the-story-of-connecticut-s-italians.

This website gave me specific information on industries that were thriving during this movement.

Swanson, Ana. "What America's Immigrants Looked like When They Arrived on Ellis Island." The Washington Post, WP Company, 24 Oct. 2015, www.washingtonpost.com/news/wonk/wp/2015/10/24/what-americas-immigrants-looked-like-when-they-arrived-on-ellis-island/.

This website gave me information about when the immigrant women first arrived on Ellis Island. It helped me visualize the process as well.

Zinn Education Project. "Italian Americans Who Fought for Justice." HuffPost, HuffPost, 7 Dec. 2017, www.huffpost.com/entry/italian-americans-who-fou_b_8280484.

This website gave me specific information on notable activists.